Rice Rice Planting (May-June), Rice Harvesting (October)

米 田植え(5~6月)、稲刈り(10月)

In 2013, the Kunisaki Peninsula and Usa regions were recognized as World Agricultural Heritage sites. In a region where rainfall is limited, oak groves and ponds have been brought together to realize a unique farming system. In Bungotakada City, you can see rice paddies which have been in place for over 1,000 years.

2013年、国東半島・宇佐地域が世界農業遺産に認定されました。雨量の少ない地域で、クヌギ林と溜池をつないで独自の農業を営んできました。豊後高田市では、千年以上も変わらない地形の水田を見ることができます。

Tree-grown Shiitake (April-May and September-November) 原木椎茸(4~5月、9~11月)

Persimmons (September-October) 柿(9~10月)

Bungotakada Soba (Buckwheat) (Spring and Fall) 豊後高田そば(春、秋)

(October) 落花生(10月)

Long Onions (In season November-March) 白ネギ (旬は11~3月)

Bungotakada is the greatest producer of long onions in western Japan and is its most famous agricultural product. It is used in duck hotpot and is served with Bungotakada soba noodles, where it complements the other flavors well. It is also delicious by itself when grilled over an open flame. Peel away the charred skin and eat it with a dipping sauce. This brings out the onion's sweetness.

西日本一の生産量を誇る白ネギは、当市を代表する農産品。合鴨鍋や豊後高田そばとの相性も抜群ですが、お薦めは直火の丸焼き。焦げた皮を剥き、秘伝のソースをつけて食べるとネギ本来の甘さが引き立ちます。

The Tashibu no Sho Osaki Area has been designated as having nationally-important cultural scenery. Its rice paddy landscape has existed unchanged for over 1,000 years. In spring, the water filled paddies are giant mirrors of the sky above. In early summer, fireflies dance about, and rice stalks droop heavy with grain in the fall. You can feel the essence of each season here.

国が指定する重要文化的景観「田染荘小崎」の田園風景は、千年以上も前から同じ景観のまま残されています。水を張った田が鏡のように輝く春、蛍の舞う初夏、黄金色の稲穂が頭を垂れる秋など、日本の四季を体感できる宿です。
